Question 1: What is the inconsistency with AAL's requirements as presented throughout the assignment specification?

Write up to one paragraph.

In the decision table, patrons aged 65 would get neither 10% discount nor 15% discount on their fees. But when performing equivalence partitioning and boundary value analysis, patrons aged would get a 15% discount on their fees. This is a contradiction in the AAL's requirements, which can be said to be a bug.

Question 2: How did you find it?

Write up to one paragraph.

After completing task 4 and moving on the task 6 in the assignment, the sudden inclusion of 65 into the 15% discount highlighted to me that this is an inconsistency with AAL's requirements as presented throughout the assignment specification.
